

A40 Jesus Must Be Killed, Matthew 16:21-27 Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

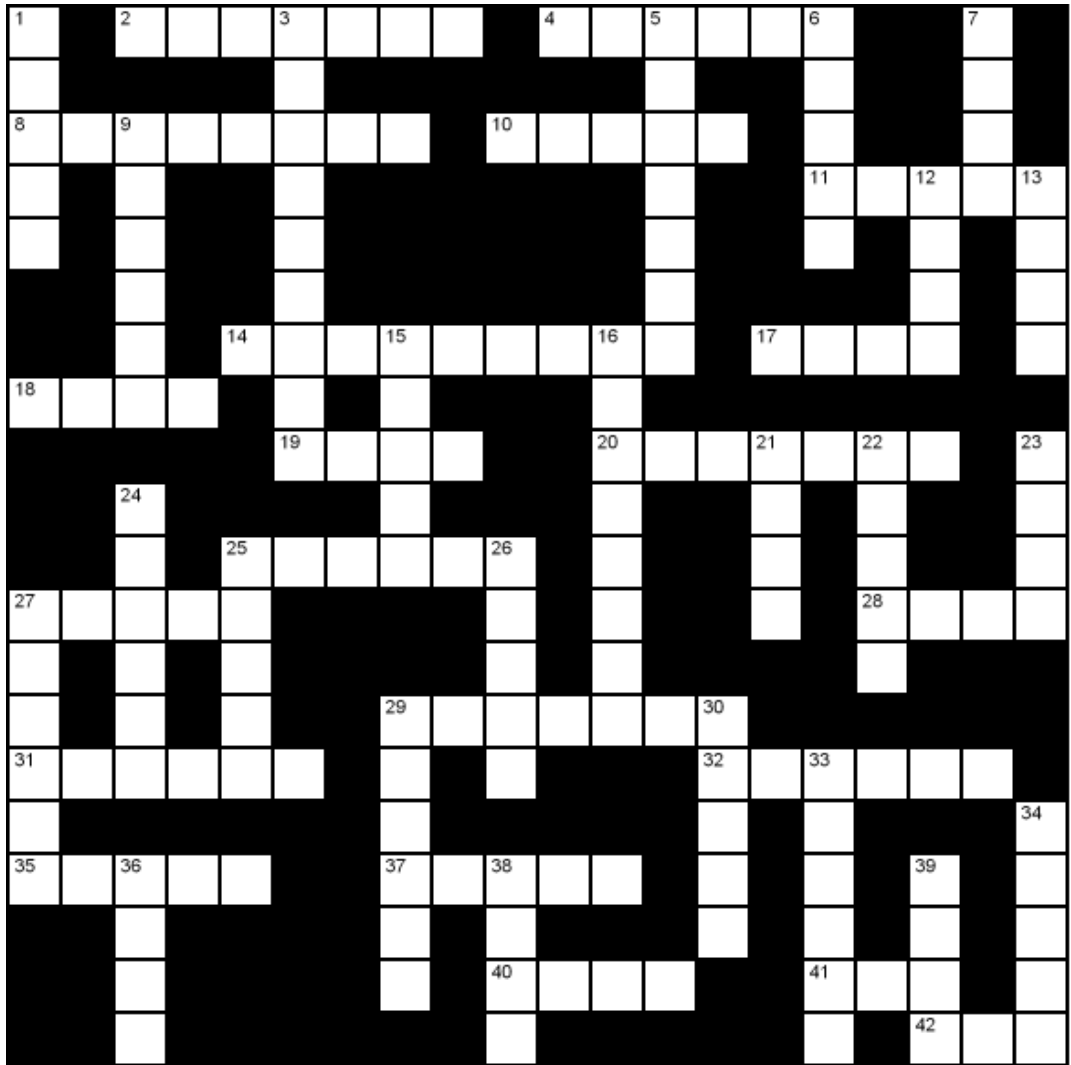

Jesus told his Apostles that in order to carry out the scriptures and be the Messiah, he would have to be killed. They did not understand why he had to be killed. They were very sad. They did not want to lose Jesus. He taught them to forgive each other, to heal, and to have faith in him. He told them what they did for others, they did for him. They discovered that Jesus would always be with them. Jesus is always with you, too.
